

PLEASE DON'T FORGET YOUR BREEDER

By Sharon Boyd

I knew from day one that they all wouldn't stay,
Preparing them for life took many hours each day.

I loved every minute watching them grow and thrive,
Helping them discover the world fills me with pride.

The weeks are numbered, never enough time.
I worry, even though I know they'll be just fine.

I trust you with this puppy and hope you understand,
I hand-picked you because you'll follow the plan.

Continue to provide new experiences each day,
Never stop training and don't forget to play.

I will never forget my puppies and will always be here.
Please provide them the best for the rest of their years.

No matter how long ago your baby was here,
Not staying in touch is my biggest fear.

Your puppy's your puppy and I know it's true
And things might come up that worry you.

Never hesitate to call me, day or night,
No question is too small, no worry, no fright.

You chose me because I'm a breeder who cares.
Your Dalmatian is special and together we'll bare

To escort him to adulthood happy and loved
And watch him live a long life with help from above.
